Social emotional

- Does not become extremely withdrawn or shy in new situations

Language

- Can say ten or more separate words (e.g., names like "Mama" or objects like "ball")
- Can speak using sentences of three or more words that go together (e.g., "I want water" or "The house is big")
- Can correctly ask questions using any of the words "what," "which," "where," or "who"
- If you point to an object, they can correctly use the words "on," "in," or "under" to describe where it is (e.g., "The cup is on the table" instead of "The cup is in the table.")
- Can say what others like or dislike (e.g., "Mama doesn't like fruit," "Papa likes football")

Cognitive

- Can sing a short song or repeat parts of a rhyme from memory by themselves
- Can count up to five objects (e.g., fingers, people)
- If you show them two objects or people of different size, can he/ she tell you which one is the big one and which is the small one
- Asks "why" questions (e.g., "Why are you tall")
- If you ask them to give you three objects (e.g., stones, beans), do they give you the correct amount

Physical

- Can jump with both feet leaving the ground
- Can dress themselves (e.g., put on their pants and shirt without help)

We can help Amahle to improve in these areas over the next few months
